Mount Carmel Parish Centre

People sometimes comment that the clergy are always talking about money. Occasionally, they have a point. Having said this, part of the priest's responsibility is to ensure that the work of the church is supported through the offerings of the people. In this parish, I am most grateful for the unseen work of many which enables the mission of the church. Alongside this, there are so many parishioners who give generously from what they have to support all that is done in this place. Thank you very much indeed.

Looking ahead, there are several projects where, I hope, the generosity of parishioners will bear fruit. Chief amongst these projects is the urgent need to refurbish the Parish Centre. It is a great resource for the parish, but it has fallen into a poor state and is not fit for purpose. Please do pray for this project, which we hope to begin soon. Watch this space for developments.

If you would like to talk with me about this matter, then please do be in touch.

With my prayers, Fr Daniel Humphreys

November — Month of the Holy Souls

Prayer to Our Lady of Mount Carmel for the Dead

Mary, mother so tender, we place into your gentle, compassionate care our loved ones who have gone before us.

Intercede for them with your divine Son that they may be admitted to the sight of God's glory.
Flower of Carmel, tall vine, blossom-laden, through your prayer may they be at peace with you and all the saints of Carmel in heavenly splendour.

In Jesus we trust. Amen.

Mary, Mother of Carmel, intercede for them. May they rest in peace. Amen.

The Synodal Pathway. In our parish the conversations have started with a view to providing to the Diocese by early December an account of the vision which we have in Enfield about the future Church in which we would happily journey together with a common mission. Michael Walsh will coordinate synod activities. All who would like to help in or contribute to this challenge are warmly invited to contact one of the priests or Michael Walsh on michaelwalsh2001@live.co.uk. The aim of the Pope and the bishops is that we should all be involved, especially those who are usually do not have a say in conversations about the Church; and that a picture should emerge of the path on which God is calling us all to walk together.
