SECOND SUNDAY OF EASTER (Divine Mercy)

24th April 2022

Saints in the Making

A thought occurred to me, during the somewhat quieter days of the Easter Octave. It would be rather good to look at some candidates for beatification and canonisation in these weekly columns over Eastertide.

We begin with John Bradburne. An Englishman, a mystic, poet, a carer of lepers, and civil war victim in Zimbabwe. John's cause is founded on the simple holiness of his unusual life. He found his way to Zimbabwe, desiring the life of a hermit. At the same time, John also heard a distinct call to care for, and live with, the outcasts of the Mutemwa leper colony. Like so many of the saints, John didn't quite fit in with the culture of his time. Some would call him an eccentric. We might rather think of him as an instrument of God, somebody whose life challenges and instructs in equal measure.

There is much that could be written about John, and I do encourage you to look up further details about his life, and to support his cause.

Fr Daniel Humphreys

An extract from the poem 'Ut Unum Sint' by John Bradburne

O Easter Day, O Paschaltide!
When gardens, fields and woods awake
Flourishing all for Jesu's sake,
In Triumph of the Crucified.

Clothed in the Shepherd's golden grace
His flocks can follow safely Home
To Blessèd Vision of God's face,
Around His high celestial throne.

'Ye blessèd of My Father, come,
Possess the Realm prepared for you':
To hear those words of God the Son
With joy, we must be clothed anew.

Clad in Christ's grace, sealed with His sign,
Filled with the breath of Life Divine:
Thus may we come to hear the bells
That peal across God's holy fells.

Catholic Listeners. A new confidential listening helpline. Catholic Listeners, Diocese of Westminster, has been set up for those who are returning to the faith. The helpline is all about listening to others, listening to those who might have become isolated due to the pandemic. This service is based on the Landings ethos of compassionate listening. Although we are not a counselling service, we have a professional team trained on signposting to other services and agencies. Simply talking about a problem can ease a burden. We aim to help those in need of a safe space to talk. For more details contact Ade catholiclisteners@gmail.com or 0800 448 0704.
